HIRING VETERANS

INVALUABLE SKILLS TO HELP YOUR BUSINESS THRIVE

Veterans are an essential part of our workforce whose invaluable skills can help your business thrive. Thanks to their service in the military, these men and women are more than qualified to get the job done. Several strengths a veteran can bring to your business are:

- High degree of training. Veterans have the proven ability to learn new skills and enter your workforce with identifiable and transferable skills.
- Leadership. Veterans know how to lead through direction, delegation, motivation, and inspiration. They understand the practical ways to manage behaviors for results, even in the most trying circumstances.
- Teamwork. Veterans know genuine teamwork grows out of a responsibility to one's colleagues. Their military duties required an understanding of how groups relate to achieve a goal.
- Diversity and inclusion in action. Veterans have worked alongside individuals of differing races, genders, geographic origins, ethnic backgrounds, religions, and economic statuses, as well as mental, physical, and attitudinal capabilities.
- Efficient performance under pressure. Veterans understand the rigors of tight schedules and limited resources. They know how to accomplish priorities on time, in spite of tremendous stress.
- Respect for procedures. Veterans grasp their place within an organization and know how policies enable an organization to exist.
- Technology and globalization. Veterans are aware of international and technical trends pertinent to businesses. They have the global outlook and technological savvy to help you succeed.
- Integrity. Veterans know how to put in "an honest day's work." They have integrity and are trustworthy and secure.

- Conscious of health and safety standards. Thanks to extensive training, veterans are aware of health and safety protocols. They represent a drug-free workforce and maintain personal health. As a result, they can help protect employees, property, and materials.
- Triumph over adversity. Veterans have frequently triumphed over great adversity. They have proved their mettle in mission critical situations that demand endurance, stamina, and flexibility.

Financial Assistance

If you're interested in hiring a veteran but are unsure that you can financially support your decision, then your business consultant can connect you with various services to assist you.

On-the-Job Training reimburses you for a portion of a participating employee's salary as you train them. This program is used to support all job seekers, so be sure to tell your business consultant that you specifically want to use the program to hire veterans.

Apprenticeships combine on-the-job learning with classroom instruction. Tell your business consultant you're interested in setting up a program and hiring a veteran as part of it.

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit provides financial reimbursement to employers that hire hard-to-employ populations, including veterans.
